To: Titus County,
RE: Culvert Bid 2021-2022

General Comments-Current Bid

My company is bidding on culverts. I felt it necessary to lead off my bid with a timely and necessary comment concerning the current bid. This is the first time in my thirty-six years of business to see such volatile conditions in pricing for not only culverts, but just about any other construction materials you can imagine. Previous years and under normal circumstances, we have been able to honor all county annual bids. The historical stability of our bids through the years has been a direct result of the culvert manufacturers being able to purchase raw materials at relatively stable market prices. We are providing your bid at current, real time pricing. Our steel pipe supplier has indicated pricing could possibly increase 15 to 25 percent or more during the months ahead. This does not mean it will go there, but this is helpful to the county in budgeting decisions or purchasing pipe ahead of such occurrences. We believe plastic culvert pricing to be more stable at the moment, but this too could change. Our company has always included a price escalation/de-escalation policy in all our previous years of bidding. This year will be no exception. In all of our past years bids, we haven't had to escalate prices. However, the likelihood of an escalation in price is much greater, more than in previous years. My culvert suppliers nor Holmes Concrete & Pipe Co. will go up unless we have no choice. With support of my conscientious and dedicated suppliers, Holmes Concrete & Pipe Co. will be a positive, support to Titus county in the days ahead. Lastly, you all know I carry a substantial inventory at my yard close to you. Please note additional delivery policies available to your county.

David Holmes

President, HC&P Co.
